Summer Survival, Achievable Dreams and Healthy Teams

Dear YL Friends,

As we head into celebrating the 20 year Anniversary of Young Living Essential Oils and focus on the 2014 Convention Theme..."Making Your Dreams Come True," we are taking a moment to reflect on our early beginnings with Young Living! (We are currently 16 plus years with Young Living...Wow...how time flies!) We love Young Living's focus on creating a world with more Wellness, Purpose and Abundance. These three key elements are the big reason WHY many of us are drawn to this amazing company! When we focus on the first step "Wellness" and creating more wellness in our own lives, it becomes easier to take the next step to Purpose and Abundance! One key product that has helped our family is SULFURZYME!

Sulfurzyme is one of our key family products that we do not want to be without! When taken on a daily basis, our family experiences less aches and pains from sports activities and yard work. Both Dave and I have seasonal allergies to many seasonal pollens. When cutting grass in the summer we take Sulfurzyme, which contains MSM the organic form of sulfur found in many vegetables including broccoli, cauliflower, onions and even garlic, along with the powdered wolfberry that has all kinds of vitamins and trace minerals to best absorb the sulfur...we get amazing results...NO ALLERGIES! Sulfur is noted as necessary for over 300 enzymatic processes in the human body including the breakdown of lactic acid. Lactic acid build up is a major cause of sore muscles this time of year when doing a lot of yard work and getting back into a regular exercise program. MSM/Sulfur also boosts our energy, which is needed to keep up with our family and sharing Young Living with others. Sulfur also has many other health benefits listed in the Booklet: MSM: On Our Way Back to Health with Sulfur, by Beth M Ley, Ph.D. Go to www.blpublications.com to purchase your own copy or copies of this amazing little booklet!

As the summer season gets going, many of us in the midwest and other areas of the world start fighting off the Bugs...which also becomes a challenge. Sulfurzyme is anti-inflammatory in nature and can help with the allergic type reactions we get with some insect bites, helping to make them less irritating and itchy. Though our first line of defense may be our amazing oil Purification, featured in our monthly promo, making our own natural insect repellents is very popular (add RC, Citronella, Hinoki, etc.). You can use Purification on the bite itself to take away the sting and itchiness. We diffuse Purification to improve air quality in our home and take away any damp musty odors. What a great way to clear the air and repel the pests!

Staying hydrated is key during the summer heat. Drinking plenty of pure water is very important. Sulfur relates to water in that, Sulfur/MSM found in Sulfurzyme is in the same category as drinking water for safety. We combine the benefits of sulfur with drinking Lemon Essential Oil or Citrus Fresh Enhanced water! It helps to keep our water tasting fresh and desirable. Lemon has been used historically to help with reducing infections and keeping things clean, as well as a great internal lymphatic flush. So, as we exercise and sweat more this time of year, citrus oils can be a great addition to cleaning our body's internal systems!

As you utilize these products to enhance your Wellness program, you will likely feel so energized that you will be motivated to create more Purpose and Abundance in your Life as well as the lives of others! Join us to say... Happy Anniversary Young Living! We salute you for your 20 years of service making the world a healthier and happier place to be!

Sincerely,

Star and Dave Moree, YL Diamonds

Dream ♦ Believe ♦ Achieve 2014

Get Clear About Your Dreams • Believe in Your Dreams • Act On Your Dreams

Marcia Weider Sample Articles:

It's time for the dreamers of the world to awaken and unite. If dreams are important to you and you are interested in transforming the conversation in the world about dreams from fear and fantasy, to hope and possibility, followed by action and results, you've come to the right place.

Some might say that this no time for dreams, or that dreams are frivolous. There has never been a more important time than right now to dream and without our dreams, all we have is reality. Reality is important, since we must know where we are so we can design the appropriate strategy for getting to where we want to be. But what has being realistic cost you? Is it costing your passion and dreams, your hopes and desires?

And what does it mean to be realistic? Most of us kill off our dreams before we explore the possibilities surrounding them. Big dreamers don't do that. They know there are setbacks and even failures. But they stay committed to their dream. And although life offers us no guarantee that we will get what we want, if you give your dream everything that you've got, in the end, you won't be the same person. You will have grown in immeasurable ways.

Living your life as a dreamer is not just about achievement and accomplishment, or even success. It is about living your life, passionately pursuing the things that matter to you most, and learning and growing along the way. But mired in reality, living from our clocks and calendars, we can forget all about our dreams, or forget to have them at all.

Dr. Mehmet Oz told me about apoptosis and if you are dreamless, beware. Apoptosis is when we believe we have outgrown our usefulness, which often happens when people retire, lose their job, or experience an empty nest -- when you stop dreaming, your brain sends a message to your body that it's no longer needed, and people begin to mentally and psychically self destruct. One antidote for this syndrome is to have dreams throughout your entire life, no matter what life is throwing you.

A good leader has the ability to see potential and gifts within their staff and establish roles accordingly. The key elements of being able to operate a thriving, successful business is to know who belongs where and have the courage and foresight to make a necessary changes. Oftentimes, someone might be a great manager and able to manage a budget, but that same person may not have the skills to inspire their team. The difference between leading and managing is managers are focused on processes, methods and efficiency whereas leaders are focused more on purpose, motivation and vision.

The success of a company can rise or fall depending on the leadership.

10 critical skills to be a brilliant leader:

1. Communication: is more than just being a good speaker. Being a good communicator also requires being able to listen and understand at a core level. Create an atmosphere of transparency in your organization to build trust and rapport.

2. Integrity: Living with integrity in your personal and professional life means leading by example as well as expectation. Keeping your word, being on time, speaking your truth and knowing your limits are just a few ways to live with integrity.

3. Decisive: The ability to decipher key data/information in order to make swift, calculated decisions without wavering. To have the confidence necessary to make decisions without having all the information in order to accomplish a goal.

4. Delegation: A team can only prosper and flourish when empowered to make decisions. The ability to set clear objectives for your team to accomplish within a reasonable timeline is essential. The ability to identify strengths and weaknesses within your management structure to recognize gifts within your team so that each individual's talents are utilized to full potential.

5. Strategic Thinking: A leader has to have a disciplined ability to focus with a clear and open mind in order to plan, act and make changes to their idea when needed.

6. Generous Collaboration: Knowing when to allow input from other sources and incorporate those suggestions purposefully. It is equally important to know when it is time to shut the door to new ideas so that you can move forward on your mission.

7. Vision: The ability to see through mired reality and understand the "big picture" with a clear intention of what the end-result should be.

8. Approachability: Be available to your customers and team. No one wants to work for the "man behind the curtain" or have the stigma that the person in charge requires a harrowing journey to reach.

9. Acknowledgement: You may appreciate your team members, but do you let them know that? Showing appreciation and gratitude to your customers and your team goes a long way. A good leader knows the value of a "thank you" or a sincere "good job" when deserved. When someone goes the extra mile, celebrate their success and see how it can help them blossom under the glow of your leadership.

10. Resolve: No matter how great your team may be there are bound to be bumps in the road--how a leader handles the crisis is what matters. The ability to take concise action while maintaining understanding for all sides toward a mutually beneficial outcome is paramount.

Dr. Purser's Favorite Things: Hormones!

Dr. Purser and D. Gary Young created a lot of excitement a few years ago when they developed Progessence Plus. For a short article, we can't list all the external causes for the imbalance of hormones we're finding, but we know there are some serious problems. The short list: xenoestrogens (soy-based proteins), toxic household products, poor quality food, chemical toxins in our food, HFCS, GMOs, stress and pituitary damage (concussions and severe mental stress).

Women's hormonal issues came first on the product agenda in 2009..... We're happy about our solution and so are our partners! Men will soon be getting their day in the spotlight. And women will benefit again, in a couple of ways.... happier men and more optimized hormone levels for women. (I like that.)

Idaho Blue Spruce raises testosterone by an average 30% using 8 drops a day.

Increased testosterone means all muscles groups improve and if all muscles improve so does stamina and energy. That means your heart will be stronger! For women, optimizing hormone levels which include testosterone, will help with dryness, skin, eyes, and soft tissue areas (if you know what I mean). And for even more happiness.... everyone's libido goes up. Dr. Purser believes in "optimizing your hormone levels for living at your best - not balancing them!" Of course.... that includes many layers to our health and each must be addressed as we progress up the learning curve. We always suggest supplementing your diet for sound nutrition and long range results. It is also advisable to work with a natural health care professional when necessary.

New Cologne for Men on the horizon.... with Idaho Blue Spruce! Studies show women need testosterone for dry skin, loss of libido and increased Joy. Men's testosterone creams usually need to be avoided by women. They are too strong and transfer easily through contact. Idaho Blue Spruce will adjust more naturally to feminine needs.

Here's a few of Dr. Dan's other Favorite Things:

Low thyroid levels can cause fatigue, weight gain, depression, dry skin, change in menses and other similar symptoms related to the endocrine system. Dr. Purser recommends supplementing with Thyromin as a natural alternative to synthetic medication, when possible. For people already using thyroid medication, some may be able to add Thyromin to their diet. Work with a wellness professional for your individual needs.

He also suggests taking OmegaGize with CoQ10 to help boost your energy levels that low thyroid, poor diet, high carb and excessive trans fats may be causing. Omega 3 fatty acids, vitamin D3, essential oils offer support for heart and circulation, brain, eye and joint health.

and His Favorite Oil: and Oils for Her:

Orange oil for happiness, feminine balance, cortisol levels, digestive issues and appetite. Brightens moods for all ages!

Clary Sage for nature's phytoestrogens and gentle transfer of organic molecules relating to the female hormone system.

SclarEssence and Lady Sclareol blends were created for a natural way to find balance and optimize your wellness. Both are popular used as a perfume while secretly enhancing your inner-Self!

Kansas City June 6th and 7th Event with Dr. Purser has been POSTPONED until fall. Watch for Young Living's post-Convention highlights and Dr. Purser's speaking engagements in your area. Topics include: Skin care products, hormones, aging, glutathione and how it all fits together.

EMF Review: What's the Current News?

Electro Magnetic Pollution...You can't smell it, you can't see it, so should you be concerned?

By Star Moree, PT, CNHP

In my mind the answer is definitely YES! I have personally experienced what it is like to be drained of energy, showing signs of low thyroid function and feeling my brain was out of balance. I could walk in a room and feel like my brain had just physically been moved from its normal position in my head. Sensitivity to cell phones has been a chronic problem for me. I can barely use a cell phone. Even touching one can give me an instant headache that takes a long time to subside. Sitting next to someone running a computer on Wireless Internet can quickly drain my energy and my brain says "get out of here and go to sleep."

What could be the cause of such "crazy" things? Some people I'm sure would say... she is out of her mind! Well that is how I have often felt since I became extremely sensitive to Electro Magnetic Pollution. There are two different types of Electro Magnetic Fields that I feel we must be extremely concerned about. Microwaves produced by microwave ovens, cell phones, cordless phones and wireless internet. The other comes from "Stray Voltage" or "Dirty Power" that is created by electronic devices including televisions, wireless computers in our homes, hotels, offices and other work places.

Microwaves create heat just like using your microwave oven. Most of us in Natural Health never cook in a microwave yet we are addicted to using cell phones. The research shows that by talking on your cell phone you are heating your brain and exposing your body, as well as anyone near you to microwave radiation! The lipo-protein cell membrane structures of nerves cells are altered from microwave radiation. In addition, microwaving raw food kills the enzymes in seconds. Is it possible that enzyme deficiency in the human body will one day be linked to microwave radiation?

Hold a baby in the opposite hand of your cell phone and the baby will experience cell phone radiation. Texting may be less heat to your brain, but the microwaves are still transmitted through your body. Some researchers estimate that brain tumors are 2-3 times more likely to occur on the side of your brain that you use a cell phone. Short-term memory loss and headaches have already been documented and doctors are estimating that millions of people could experience increasing problems with long term memory loss due to overuse of cell phones and Wireless Internet. The microwaves emitted standing 4-5 feet away from a laptop running on WiFi can measure at 2,000 microwatts/cm²...the FCC allows 1,000 microwatts/cm² and only 10 microwatts/cm² has been shown as safe to researchers like Dave Stetzer. A worldwide epidemic of Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease and other CNS (central nervous system) disorders is very possible!

Stray Voltage or 'Dirty Power' that travels on the wiring in our homes, hotels, offices, schools and other work places can create many symptoms of imbalance that include headaches, depression, insomnia, MS-like symptoms of numbness and tingling as well as in extreme cases, seizures and paralysis. Cardiac issues can be created as heart palpitations, and high or low blood pressure. Chronic sinus congestion, bronchitis, shortness of breath and even asthma can occur when exposed to high EMF levels. Vision problems can occur including pain and pressure behind the eyes, along with many digestive problems, an enlarged thyroid, hair loss, pain in teeth, deteriorating fillings, impaired sense of smell and ringing in the ears. High EMF exposure creates acidity in the body leading to a whole list of stresses on major organ systems. Cancer is known to proliferate or grow in an acid environment.

The higher the EMF Field the higher the risk of cancer. If you are in an EMF field that is measured at 1000 GS you are at 15% higher risk, at 2000 GS a 25% higher risk. Electrical workers on high power lines and substations are documented to be at a much higher risk of certain kinds of cancer. A safe range is below 50 GS. Anything that measures above 50 GS is going internal. At 35 GS people with diabetes and blood sugar imbalance that are EMF sensitive will typically experience a minimum of 52% drop in blood sugar levels! At 30 GS the body will alkalinize in 2-3 hours (from Dave Stetzer's presentation on the research that has been conducted to validate the harmful effects of EMF exposure.)

What can we do? We can limit our use of Cell phones and choose not to use Wireless Internet whenever possible! It is recommended that children do not use cell phones! If possible choose to live at least 1 mile away (some researchers say more... some say less) from a cell phone tower. Avoid the new compact fluorescent light bulbs and dimmer switches. They emit a strong EMF field. Install special filters that bring down stray voltage in the internal wiring of our homes, hotels, schools and work place! Combat free radicals created by EMF's with a healthy diet, whole food supplements, drink plenty of water and get rest in an EMF-free zone! You can also discharge the EMF's in your body by taking an "aroma-size" mineral bath or by standing on a metal plate or piece of tinfoil for a few minutes (preferably barefoot).

Microsurge Meters and Filters to measure the Stray Voltage in your wiring are available for purchase on Dave Stetzer's website. Installing the filters may decrease your electric bill by controlling stray voltage that interrupts the meter's cycle. Heat reduction may occur in computer labs after reducing stray voltage.

Attention Deficit Disorder and Dirty Electricity

Author(s): Sameul Milham, MD, MPH; Date; October 2011

Journal of Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics; Publisher: Lippincott Williams & Wilkins, Inc.

In February 2010, while studying a cancer cluster in teachers at a California elementary school, a fourth grade teacher complained that her students were hyper-active and un-teachable. The classroom levels of high frequency voltage transients (dirty electricity) in the radio frequencies (RF) between 4 and 100 kHz, measured in the outlets of her classroom with a Graham/Stetzer Microsurge meter were very high. Dirty electricity is a term coined by the electrical utilities to describe electrical pollution contaminating the 60 Hz electricity on the electrical grid. A cell phone tower on campus a few feet from this classroom and unshielded fluorescent lights both contributed to the electrical pollution in this room. Cell tower transmitters, like most modern electrical equipment, operate on direct current. The electrical current brought to the tower is alternating current which needs to be changed to direct current. This is done by a switching power supply. These devices interrupt the AC current and are the likely source of the dirty electricity. Read more....

Power Quality Affects Teacher Well-being and Student Behavior in Three Minnesota Schools

Author(s): Dr. Magda Havas, BSc, Ph.D. (Professor of Environmental and Resource Studies – Trent University, Peterborough, Ontario, Canada), Angela Olstad (Melrose-Mindoro Elementary School – Melrose, WI USA)

Publication: Science of the Total Environment; Publisher: Elsevier B.V.; Date: April 21, 2008

Abstract:/Results: Dirty electricity was reduced by more than 90% in the three schools and during this period teacher health improved as did student behavior in the middle/elementary schools. Headaches, general weakness, dry eyes/mouth, facial flushing, asthma, skin irritations, overall mood including depression and anxiety improved significantly among staff. Of the 44 teachers who participated 64% were better, 30% were worse, and 6% did not change. Behavior of high school students did not improve but elementary/middle school students were more active in class; more responsive, more focused; had fewer health complaints; and had a better overall learning experience.

Conclusions: Dirty electricity in schools may be adversely affecting wellbeing of teachers and behavior of their students, especially younger students in middle and elementary school. Power line filters improve power quality and may also protect those who are sensitive to this energy. Work on electric and magnetic field metrics with and without Stetzer filters urgently needs to be carried out to determine just what characteristics of the dirty electricity may be interacting with the people. Accommodation for Environmental Sensitivities

Author(s): Cara Wilkie, David Baker; Publisher: Canadian Human Rights Commission; Date: May 2007

Abstract: Environmental sensitivities are a group of poorly understood medical conditions that cause people to react adversely to environmental triggers. The Canadian Human Rights Commission commissioned this report, in which the researchers seek to establish the status of the issues related to environmental sensitivities from a legal perspective and as these relate to the protection of human rights. The researchers examined case law, consulted experts and examined secondary sources on accommodation of people with environmental sensitivities in Canada, the United States, Australia, New Zealand and the United Kingdom, in order to answer several questions in the Canadian context: What is the status of the case law in these jurisdictions? Do building codes act as barriers to people with environmental sensitivities? What best practices emerge from the case law? How are conflicting interests reconciled? How can third parties be involved in the accommodation process? Where is the threshold of undue hardship? How are conflicts regarding accommodation preferences resolved? Read more....

The Health Effects of Electrical Pollution

Author(s): The National Foundation for Alternative Medicine (NFAM)

Abstract: Americans are surrounded by electrical devices – computers, VCRs and a plethora of household gadgets and consumer appliances. There is also the assumption that the electricity (and associated electrical phenomena) are safely confined to the wires carrying electricity to the electrical devices themselves.

For a variety of reasons, including the very design of the electrical distribution system, this assumption is no longer valid. Electricity is a trusted component of contemporary civilization. Few notice the poles, wires, substations and transformers that deliver electricity. Fewer still pay any attention to the hidden lattice of wires in the walls of homes, offices, churches, factories and schools. Yet all contribute to an increasingly dangerous electrical environment that has largely escaped systematic monitoring. The increased demand for electricity, and the proliferation of computers and other electronic devices have markedly increased our exposure to electrical phenomena. These phenomena are a ubiquitous presence in our lives, albeit invisible and odorless.

There is the widespread (and mistaken) assumption that our electrical environment has been carefully studied and monitored and, save for a few exceptions, found to be harmless. The truth is that the millions of Americans live and work in environments that subject them to a variety of harmful electric phenomena. One of the most potent contaminants is radio-frequency radiation.

Young Living 20 Year Celebration

June 24th - 28th Young Living will celebrate their 20 year Anniversary in Salt Lake City and Mona, Utah. We are breaking all records for attendance so this year be prepared for the additional ENERGY of EXCITEMENT that NEW MEMBERS have, for what some of us “have known all along!” Farm Day will coincide with Lavender Days in Mona. Some folks have tickets for Friday, June 27th, but the farm will be open to the public Saturday as well. No other essential oil company compares to the world leader... because we evolved from “the farm.” And Young Living continues to honor the “Seed to Seal” process that can only come from an intimate understanding of where our oils come from and how they are handled each step of the way!

Our global relationships are based on knowing other farmers, not indirectly purchasing at an auction, or from a broker seeking the best price of the day. You can come to a Young Living Farm and see for yourself or you can use Young Living essential oils and oil-enhanced products to experience the difference. Experience is always the best teacher and we have over twenty years of it!

Young Living Farms - note: All YL farms are organic and sustainably farmed!

Idaho - Beginning on 1/4 acre the need for more space. Gary purchased land in St. Maries Idaho in 1992. Far from urban centers, it is located where there is minimal risk of contamination from aerial spraying or irrigation runoff from any neighboring farms maintaining its organic history. Distributors helped plant the first lavender fields and continue to come back every season to participate in planting and harvesting.

Utah - As demand for Young Living oils increased, so did the demand for more land and more distillation capacity. Gary Young purchased 138 acres in 1995. The farm in Mona is fed by pristine springs on organic fertile soil. Within a year, additional acreage was needed increasing the farms to over 1,600 acres. In 1996 the first crops of peppermint, clary sage, thyme, basil, melissa, German and Roman chamomile, spearmint, and lavender were harvested. Now established as the largest farming operation devoted to the purpose of growing medicinal herbs in North America.

France - In 2000 Young Living purchased a small lavender farm in the beautiful valley of Simiane, located in southern France. This purchase was a historic and cooperative opportunity for Young Living. Members now visit and experience lavender cultivation from growers and France's scientific community. Additional acres purchased in 2013.

Ecuador - The extremely fertile soil and year-round growing season makes Ecuador an ideal place to expand cultivating, harvesting, and distilling plants for essential oils. Some oils are in critical short supply around the world. Young Living is dedicated to teaching and supplying the world, from the largest farm operation and with the highest quality standards available in the industry, of pure therapeutic-grade essential oils (YLTG). The additional land purchased in Ecuador over the last few years, now brings Young Living Farms to 4,170 total acres.

Peru - In honor of Gary's reputation, Young Living was granted access to 12,350 acres for plant study, sustainable reforestation of and essential oil cultivation which includes rosewood. YL contributes to economic development and education on a global level.

Oman - The only place Boswellia sacra grows and only Gary Young has permission and access to 'Sacred Frankincense.' Young Living is distilling Boswellia sacra in partnership with Dr. Suhail in Salalah and the Omani Arabian Kingdom. The Sultan of Oman granted 40,000 trees of Boswellia sacra for exclusive production of Young Living's essential oils.

Gary and Mary Young have continued to uphold their commitment to the stewardship of this Earth and dedication to educating the public on the differences and importance of therapeutic-grade essential oils. They will not compromise their standards nor the integrity required, as leaders in the natural health industry.

Don't sell oils! Change people's lives!!!

Essentials oils were foreign to most people as little as twenty years ago. It's hard to be different, but D. Gary Young never compromised his dream or his oils. Our essential oils are as authentic as the original plant(s) they come from. Young Living is a world class company and will continue to face the challenges of the skeptical consumer and the MLM reputation. Is this a pyramid company? No. It's a relationship company. Public skepticism goes back to the human experience of being cheated; snake oil salesmen and pyramid schemes. Did you know that eucalyptus brought to America by the Australians, actually worked against snake venom? Can you imagine how someone might profit by diluting, altering and cheating the public and marketing it "as the same thing?" You can be 'sold anything' and never see the seller again. You can 'buy anything' and blame the seller or yourself if it didn't work as promised. (How's that working out for our long term level of trust in the world?)

Did you know that pyramid schemes are illegal, because they took advantage of an investment process that allowed only the people at the top to profit on all the other people who "signed up" under them? Just like snake oil, the original network marketing structure was designed to help people, build community and economy through a network of relationships!

A solid Multi-level Marketing company is simply a business structure we aren't familiar with, YET. It is actually based on people starting their own business and being offered the same opportunities as everyone else to succeed. It is structured to support people, help them evolve into educators, increase their leadership skills, influence the public about products that aren't available in retail stores for some very particular reasons. Young Living Members are messengers. Retailers are sellers.... often without any message at all.

MLM companies are re-educating consumers about health products, not available on a public scale. There are billions of products out there and we know little about their origins or authenticity. If you want authentic essential oils and products and you want to share them with other people.... Be Authentic! Be as honest as the origin of Young Living oils. The future depends on it.
